Court Electronic Noticing Procedures

General Order No. 00-1

ORDER

This matter arises sua sponte upon the need for the Court to announce its procedures for obtaining notices electronically. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9036 - Notice by Electronic Transmission - the Court may direct notice by electronic transmission if the entity entitled to receive the bankruptcy notice requests in writing that the notice be transmitted electronically. This written request requirement is fulfilled through an electronic noticing agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the Court will provide electronic noticing agreements through the judiciary's Bankruptcy Noticing Center to any entity requesting this service. The terms and procedures for electronic noticing are detailed in the Court's noticing agreement provided by the Bankruptcy Noticing Center.
